Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 20-27, 31-32, 35-38, 42-44, 46-51, 75-79, and 84-86 are allowed.

The following is the statement of reasons for allowance.

As per claim 20, the prior art of record (Galea (hereinafter "Galea", U.S. Patent Number 6404445) in view of Everett (U.S. Patent Application Publication

Art Unit: 2162

Number 2004/0024790) and further in view of Guyon et al., (hereinafter "Guyon", U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2006/0064415) and further in view Cason (U.S. Patent Number 6035300)), alone or in combination, does not teach or fairly suggest the combination of steps as recited in the claim. Prior art of record does not teach the following limitations:

"when an entity satisfy the set of conditions, classifying the entity as a particular entity type for which a user interface is created within a particular window of a set of windows, wherein the user interface element provides access to said entity though the user interface".

The dependent claims of claim 20, being definite, further limiting, and fully enabled by the specification are also allowed.

As per claim 31, the prior art of record (Galea (hereinafter "Galea", U.S. Patent Number 6404445) in view of Everett (U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2004/0024790) and further in view of Guyon et al., (hereinafter "Guyon", U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2006/0064415) and further in view Cason (U.S. Patent Number 6035300)), alone or in combination, does not teach or fairly suggest the combination of steps as recited in the claim. Prior art of record does not teach the following limitations:

"a set of instructions executed when an entity satisfy the set of conditions, said set of instructions classifying the entity as a particular entity type for which a user interface is created within a particular window of a set of windows, wherein the user interface element provides access to said entity though the user interface".

The dependent claims of claim 31, being definite, further limiting, and fully enabled by the specification are also allowed.

As per claim 35, the prior art of record (Galea (hereinafter "Galea", U.S. Patent Number 6404445) in view of Everett (U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2004/0024790) and further in view of Guyon et al., (hereinafter "Guyon", U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2006/0064415) and further in view Cason (U.S. Patent Number 6035300)), alone or in combination, does not teach or fairly suggest the combination of steps as recited in the claim. Prior art of record does not teach the following limitations:

"when an entity satisfy the set of conditions, classifying the entity as a particular entity type for which a user interface is created within a particular window of a set of windows, wherein the user interface element provides access to said entity through the user interface".

The dependent claims of claim 35, being definite, further limiting, and fully enabled by the specification are also allowed.

As per claim 42, the prior art of record (Galea (hereinafter "Galea", U.S. Patent Number 6404445) in view of Everett (U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2004/0024790) and further in view of Guyon et al., (hereinafter "Guyon", U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2006/0064415) and further in view Cason (U.S. Patent Number 6035300)), alone or in combination, does not teach or fairly suggest the combination of steps as recited in the claim. Prior art of record does not teach the following limitations:

“a set of instructions for receiving a description of the user interface, the description being based upon a set of conditions that satisfy the plurality of entities into entity types, wherein the classification comprises classification of an entity as at least (i) a first entity type for which a user interface element is created within a first window of a set of windows in the description of the user interface in order to access said entity upon determining that the entity satisfies the set of conditions and (ii) a second entity type for which a user interface element is created within a second window of the set of windows in the description of the user interface in order to access said entity upon determining that the entity does not satisfy the set of conditions”.

As per claim 46, the prior art of record (Galea (hereinafter “Galea”, U.S. Patent Number 6404445) in view of Everett (U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2004/0024790) and further in view of Guyon et al., (hereinafter “Guyon”, U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2006/0064415) and further in view Cason (U.S. Patent Number 6035300)), alone or in combination, does not teach or fairly suggest the combination of steps as recited in the claim. Prior art of record does not teach the following limitations:

“when an entity satisfy the set of conditions, the classification comprises classifying the entity as a particular entity type for which a user interface element is created within a particular window of a set of windows in the description of the user interface, wherein the user interface element provides access to said entity through the user interface".

The dependent claims of claim 46, being definite, further limiting, and fully enabled by the specification are also allowed.

As per claim 84, the prior art of record (Galea (hereinafter "Galea", U.S. Patent Number 6404445) in view of Everett (U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2004/0024790) and further in view of Guyon et al., (hereinafter "Guyon", U.S. Patent Application Publication Number 2006/0064415) and further in view Cason (U.S. Patent Number 6035300)), alone or in combination, does not teach or fairly suggest the combination of steps as recited in the claim. Prior art of record does not teach the following limitations:

"in response to the request, dynamically creating a description of said user interface (i) by using a set of heuristics to select a set of data entities from the plurality of data entities for access by the client through a primary window of the description based on a relevancy of the set of data entities to the client, and (ii) by providing a set of tasks operable on each data entity".

The dependent claims of claim 84, being definite, further limiting, and fully enabled by the specification are also allowed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should
